

Eric Yong Joong Lee, Professor of International Law at Dongguk University and President of YIJUN Institute of International Law, in Seoul. He studied at the University of Washington, Master in Public Administration at Seoul National University, Master of Law at Leiden University and Doctor of Law at Erasmus University Rotterdam. Author of many books and scientific journal articles, he is editor-in-chief of «Journal of East Asia & International Law» and «China and WTO Review».

Olimpia Niglio, Professor in History of Architecture at Pontificia Facoltà Teologica Marianum ISSR in Rome, Research Fellow at Kyoto University – Graduate School of Human and Environmental Studies, and Professor at University of Bogotá Jorge Tadeo Lozano. She studied at the University of Naples “Federico II” where she also obtained the PhD, Executive Master at Business School «Sole24ORE» and Post PhD (MIUR) in Conservation of Architectural Heritage. She is the director of EdA – Esempi di Architettura, International Research Center.

www.tabedizioni.it

LEE & NIGLIO

Cultural Diplomacy & Heritage

tabedizioni

ERIC YONG JOONG LEE
OLIMPIA NIGLIO

Cultural Diplomacy & Heritage

The book, published by Eric Yong Joong Lee and Olimpia Niglio, aims to inaugurate projects on the dialogue between Diplomacy, Culture, and Heritage. The collected articles are the result of reflections arising from the authors' direct experiences with reference to diverse cultural contexts between Asia, Europe, and America. Some of these articles have already been published in scientific journals but allow us to re-analyze very current and important issues to share in the international academic context. The book is divided into two sessions: Foreign Affairs and International Law and Culture and Heritage, and the structure allows two very important disciplines of Cultural Diplomacy to be dialogued: International Law and Cultural Heritage, an essential combination for cooperation and dialogue between cultures.

The book series is promoted by YIJUN
Institute of International Law and Atelier
Seoul (Seoul, Republic of Korea).

